

This map illustrates the Grays Harbor area in Washington, focusing on the Quinault River watershed. The Quinault River is shown flowing from the north towards Grays Harbor, with its tributaries including the Clearwater, Solleks, and Quinault rivers. Other significant rivers in the region include the Naches, Cowlitz, and Wishkah. The map also shows the cities of Aberdeen and Grays Harbor, as well as the surrounding counties of Clallam, Jefferson, and Mason. A scale bar indicates distances in miles, and a north arrow is located in the bottom right corner.
